WARM DAYS AND COOL NIGHTS

Richard Harding Davis Among the Distinguished Guests.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) WARM SPRINGS, VA., August 5.-11 Mr. James Russell Lowell were alive, we could answer his question: "What is so rare as a day in June," by the counter suggestion: "Try a day in August at the Warm.

Guests open their newspapers on the broad, alry porch after breakfast and read of the record breaking heat at home. They long to exclaim, Friend come up higher, and if their pockets were as deep

They long to exclaim, Friend coine dp higher, and if their pockots were as deep as their hearts, they would send tickets to every dear one that is left behind. There is perhaps nothing pleasanter than to turn the key upon all one's werries and household cares; bid farewell to the milkman, the butcher, the baker, the candlestick maker; close one's eyes to the demestic problem and turn one's footsteps to the work of the work the chek, with their sweet scented odors from these glorious mountains, Can you wonder that they revel in this historic cld place, where Thomas Jefferson and a train of Amreica's greatest men were wont to pass their summers.

The most distinguished visitors of the week 'were: Mr. and Mrs. Richard harding Davis. There is always a pleasurable curiosity in being in close profinguist to a ceiebrity, and it was a pleasurable curlosity in being in close profinquity to a ceiebrity, and it was a pleasure even to those who did not personally know Mr. Davis to glance surrepitiously, for they are too polite to stare, at the creator of Van Bibber and other stories and to see Mr. Davis so splendidly well. They had also a glimpse of what the public does not see, the tract of home life in the devoted and chivalrous son.

unct of home life in the devoted and chivalrous son.

Mrs. Rebecca Harding Davis has made her summer home here for the last fifteen years. Naturally, she is a central figure, and though she spends but little time at the hotel, she is the gracious hostess in her picturesque cottage, and to call once, means to call as often, as we hope we will not intrude.

Mr. and Mrs. George T. M. Gibson entertained Mr. and Mrs. Richard Harding Davis with a driving party and afternoon tea at Flag Rock. Mrs. Gibson, with her complete outfit for such an occasion, poured tea with her usual grace.

General and Mrs. Wallace Randolpa gave a delightful breakfast in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Davis at Fassifern farm. These hospitalities were returned by Mr. Davis, with a charming evening at this same old-fashioned farm, where true country meals are served, of which Deinanlee might be proud. After supper the party sat on the big porch. Smoking and singing songs and what better bespeaks good fellowship.

The "Road to Mandalay," the music of which was composed by Mr. Davis, was especially appropriate, and Virginia testifies there are also other countries where a man can raise a thirst.

Mr. and Mrs. Linear Dunn and the Misses Dunn have just returned from a delightful trip to Europe.

Much interest is manifested in the approaching marriage in September of aliss Hildreth Dunn and Mr. George Cole Scott, son of the late Mr. Fred Scott, and one of Richmond's popular and well known yeung men. The wedding will be celebrated at the beau. ful country seat, "Grammercy film," of Mr. and Mrs.
Dunn, between fire and the Hot Springs.
Deck-golf which has been introduced by Mr. William Wheatley, of Washington, who has recently returned from a trip around the world, and played as they play it between Alexandria and Celon, has made a great hit, and is tremendously great hit, and is tremendously popular.

The exedus of husbands and sweethearts has commenced from the cities, and the week end is eagerly looked forward to by the wives—of course.

Among those taking cottages for August arc: Mr. F. W. McCullough and family, Mrs. C. Brooks Johnston, the Misses Johnston, Mr. D. Laurence Groner and family and Mr. Richard Funstall, of Norfolk.

PLEASURE DWELLS AT THE HOT SPRINGS

A Most Delightful Gathering of Distinguished People.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

HOT SPRINGS, VA., August 5.—Mrs.
Calderon Carlisle, very popular here and well remembered in Bichmond, gave a very delightful tea at Rubino Cascades to Miss Grosobeck and Miss Harrison, Miss Gladys Ingalls, Mr. Fly Ingalls,
Mr. Stewart Sufton and Mr. James Minor, of Cincinnati; Miss Miry Carlislo and Mr. J. C. Carlisle, of Washington, D. C., and Mr. H. B. Howe, of New York, Rubino Cascades is much admired by femininity for its picturesque beauty, and by mature masculinity for its lively trout; but to all there is a certain fascination in its narrow walk, just wide enough for two; the music of its running water, the romance of its lights and shadows, wavering through the interlaced tree-tops. It is whispered this is a favorite stroll of those psychological speciments, loved by all the world, and that many have found this little path led to the broader highway of life.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Caperton, of Louisville, Ky., entertained at dinner at Fassifern Farm Mrs. Bond and Miss Tyson, of Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. Caperton are among the charming representatives of Louisville, who are here for the summer. Mrs. Caperton is a slender, girlish, brunette beauty.

As a rule, Kentucky women are very beautiful and oxquisitoly gowned. Re-brunctte beauty.

As a rule, Kentucky women are very heautiful and exquisitely gowned. Recently when one of these beauties entered the breakfast-room of "The Homestead," it was remarked that generals, go," stead, 'It was remarked that Kenerals, 307-errors, sonators, admirals, congressment, colonels, mayors and lesser lights laid aside their papers and entirely forgot their toast and coffee. It is even said that the train whell bore her away was un-comfortably crowded by impromptu fish-ermen, who went as far as Covington in quest of a good stream, though Jackson River here has never falled a lover of the sport.
